ANNEX II

VIET NAM TIMBER LEGALITY DEFINITION

INTRODUCTION

The Legality Definition (LD) sets out principles, criteria, indicators and verifiers for legal timber according to the laws and regulations of Viet Nam. The LD shall be updated as and when required during implementation of the Agreement in accordance with the provisions of Article 24 of the Agreement. The LD forms an integral part of the Viet Nam Timber Legality Assurance System (VNTLAS) described in Annex V.

This Annex has been developed by a multi-sector working group through a comprehensive consultation process with government agencies, industry associations, enterprises, civil society, households, individuals and local communities. The forms of consultation have included stakeholder workshops, on-line and written comments and contributions by organisations and individuals on drafts of the LD.

Vietnamese legal documents referred to in the Appendices 1A and 1B of this Annex include Laws and Ordinances of the National Assembly, Decrees of the Government, Decisions of the Prime Minister, Decisions of ministries, and Circulars of ministries which are publically disclosed.

STRUCTURE AND CONTENT OF LEGALITY DEFINITION MATRIX

The LD is developed for two target groups, namely Organisations and Households, as defined in section 2.2.1 of Annex V, to reflect compliance requirements of various regulations that apply to these two target groups and to design a clear, specific and feasible VNTLAS as described in Annex V.

The LD for Organisations is set out in Appendix 1A and the LD for Households is set out in Appendix 1B of this Annex II.

The LD is divided into 7 principles, as follows:

1. Organisations

- Principle I: Harvesting of domestic timber complies with regulations on land use rights, forest use rights, management, environment and society.
- Principle II: Compliance with regulations on handling confiscated timber.
- Principle III: Compliance with regulations on importing timber.
- Principle IV: Compliance with regulations on timber transportation and trade.

- Principle V: Compliance with regulations on timber processing.
- Principle VI: Compliance with regulations on export.
- Principle VII: Compliance with regulations on tax and labour.

2. Households

- Principle I: Harvesting of domestic timber complies with regulations on land use rights, forest use rights, management, environment and society.
- Principle II: Compliance with regulations on handling confiscated timber.
- Principle III: Compliance with regulations on importing timber.
- Principle IV: Compliance with regulations on timber transportation and trade.
- Principle V: Compliance with regulations on timber processing.
- Principle VI: Compliance with regulations on export.
- Principle VII: Compliance with taxation regulations.

The LD for Organisations and Households consist of seven principles; however, under some principles the number of criteria, indicators and verifiers varies. In general, some of the regulations that apply to Households are simpler than those for Organisations. The most significant differences are reflected in Principle I, IV and VII, as follows:

- Under Principle I: Harvesting of domestic timber complies with regulations on land use rights, forest use rights, management, environment and society, both the LD for Organisations and the LD for Households include 8 criteria; however, some of the criteria vary between the two categories. The LD for Organisations includes Criterion 1: Compliance with regulations on main harvesting of natural forest timber, but this Criterion is not applicable to Households. The LD for Households includes Criterion 7: Compliance with regulations on harvesting timber from plantations in home gardens, farms and dispersed trees, but this Criterion is not applicable for Organisations (described further below).
- Under Principle IV: Compliance with regulations on timber transportation and trade, the LD for Organisations includes 10 criteria and the LD for Households includes 7 criteria. The additional criteria under the LD for Organisations relate to compliance with regulations on business registration, and internal transportation of timber and timber products within a province and between provinces which is not applicable to Households.
- Under Principle VII, the LD for Organisations covers Compliance with regulations on tax and labour (3 criteria), while the LD for Households covers Compliance with regulations on tax (1 criterion). This reflects difference in the regulations on labour applied to Households as compared to Organisations.

In the LD and under VNTLAS, there is a distinction between static and dynamic verifiers as defined in Section 4.1 of Annex V. Static verifiers (denoted ‘S’ in the LD matrix) relate to the establishment and operations of Organisations and Households, including but not limited to verifiers such as business registration, forest land use rights, taxation and environmental and labour regulation. Dynamic verifiers (denoted 'D' in the LD matrix) relate to batches of timber in the supply chain, including but not limited to verifiers such as timber packing lists and sales invoices, included in the Timber Product Dossier at each stage of the supply chain.

EXPLANATION OF ELEMENTS OF THE LEGALITY DEFINITION

1. Explanation of land use rights and forest use rights verifiers

The Government of Viet Nam aims to ensure that conducive conditions are created whereby domestic timber growers can produce and sell their products. The LD therefore sets out a comprehensive and inclusive framework of verifiers on land use rights and forest use rights as described under Principle I. The number of verifiers varies according to the category of user (Organisations or Households) and the category of forest (Criterion). In order to determine legal land use rights, Organisations and Households only need one of the verifiers which are specified in the Principle I of LD.

The main reason for including several verifiers on land use rights and forest use rights is the evolution of land policy of Viet Nam in different periods. Verifiers on land use rights and forest use rights introduced under previous regulations may still be valid according to the current Land Law.

Land Use Rights Certificates (Red Book Certificates) were first introduced through the Land Law of 1993. Since 1993, issuance of land use rights certificates has been progressively extended to all land users and all categories of land throughout the country. This process is still underway and there are some circumstances in which legal forest land users have not yet been granted Land Use Rights Certificates. In this situation, a number of alternative verifiers may apply and can be used to demonstrate legal land use right and legal forest use rights, such as: decisions on land allocation; decisions on forest allocation; decisions on forest land allocation; decisions on forest allocation combined with land allocation; decisions on land leasing; decisions on contracting forest land; forest registration books; or written confirmation of the Commune People's Committees.

According to the Land Law, in case that Households do not have Land Use Rights Certificates, or any other documentary evidence of land use rights, certification by the Commune People's Committee that the land is currently used and is not subject to any dispute can be used as a verifier of legal land use.

2. Harvesting timber from home gardens, farms and dispersed trees

The LD for Households does not include verifiers that regulate land use rights for trees harvested from home gardens, farms and dispersed trees, because those trees do not meet criteria of concentrated plantation forests, or are planted in areas that cannot be granted land use rights certificates such as on roadsides or along canal banks.

When there is a need for harvesting, before exploitation, households submit a report on the harvesting location, species, and volume of timber harvested from their home gardens, farms and dispersed trees to the Commune People's Committee for monitoring and controlling. After exploitation, households prepare and self-certify their timber packing list.

3. Compliance with regulations on export

The procedure for FLEGT licensing for shipments of timber for export to markets of the European Union takes place before customs procedures for export, as described under Annex IV. Therefore, Principle VI is used to classify Organisations under the Organisations Classification System as specified in Annex V.

4. Definitions

In the context of the VPA, the following terminologies are understood as follows:

Principle

Principles are the areas of Vietnamese law and legislation that Organisations and Households have to comply with at each stage of supply chains as indicated in Annex II and Annex V.

Criterion

A Criterion is a legal requirement for Organisations and Households to implement in order to assure compliance with a Principle.

Indicator

An Indicator is a specific measure, or measures, that Organisations and Households have to comply with to fulfill the Criterion.

Verifier

A Verifier is an evidence to prove the fulfillment of an Indicator and Criterion.

Forest owner (forest title holder)

Forest owner refers to Organisations or Households that are assigned or leased forest land or forest by the Government for forestry-related production or business in accordance with the Law on Forest Protection and Development.

Harvesting design statement

The harvesting design statement is a document describing the basic situation of the harvesting area; harvesting techniques; harvesting and salvage volume, categories and detailed tables on forest harvesting technical standards.

Design unit

A design unit is an entity authorized by a competent agency with the mandate to design forest harvesting operations.

Main harvesting

Main harvesting of timber of natural forests refers to the logging of timber which is for economic purposes while ensuring the stable development and use of forest determined in the scheme for sustainable forest management according to the current regulations of State. Main harvesting in natural forests is not applied to Households.

Tree marking list

The tree marking list is a document recording the name, size of the trees that can be felled in the harvesting design area.

Report on location and volume of harvested timber products

The report on harvested timber products lists information on the harvested area and the harvested volume according to different categories of domestic timber source including natural forest, planted forest, rubber wood and scattered trees.

Forest product packing list (“Packing list”)

The forest product packing list is a mandatory document in the Timber Product Dossier at each stage of the timber supply chain. The packing list is the list of forest products for one check-and-approval, trade, export, import or forest products transported by one vehicle. The packing list for forest products in circulation includes information on the name and type of timber products, unit, form of forest products, quantity and volume, at the end of page of the timber product packing list indicating the total quantity.

List of anticipated timber to be harvested

The list of anticipated timber to be harvested includes information on the location, species and quantity (volume and diameter) of products to be harvested.

Entry and exit books

Entry and exit books are used to record forest products entered and exited of the harvesting, processing and trading Organisations.

Unprocessed timber products

Unprocessed timber products are those not impacted by tools, equipment of all kinds after being harvested, imported, and handled if confiscated and still in the original shape and parameter.

Salvage harvesting and salvage collection

Salvage harvesting of timber means the harvesting of timber during the implementation of silvicultural measures, scientific research and site clearance for projects involving conversion of forest use purposes.

Salvage collection of timber means the collection of fallen or dead trees due to natural disaster; burnt, rotten or dry timber and branches of timber remaining in forest.

Legal timber product dossier (“timber product dossier”)

The legal timber product dossier is a set of records related to timber products which are prepared, stored in the timber product producing and trading Organisations and Households and circulated together with timber products in the process of harvesting, trading, transporting, processing and storing.

Production forest

Production forests are forests used mainly for production and sale of timber and non-timber forest products in combination with environmental protection.

Protection forest

Protection forests are forests used mainly for protection of water sources and soil, prevention of erosion and desertification, restriction of natural disasters, climate regulation and environmental protection.

Special-use forest

Special-use forests are forests used mainly for nature conservation, preservation of standard specimens of the national ecosystems and forest biological gene sources; scientific research; protection of historical and cultural relics and landscape preservation for recreation and tourism purposes in combination with environmental protection.

Step 2: Application review

The Licensing Authority shall conduct the following steps:

- (a) In the case of Organisations, confirm the risk category status in the Organisations Classification System Database, as set out in Annex V, in order to ensure the accuracy of the risk category declared by the exporter in the timber export dossier and that the packing list has been duly certified in line with the risk category status of the Organisation.

(b) Check the completeness of the submitted Timber Product Dossier for FLEGT Licensing of Organisations and Households according to requirements as described in Section 2.1 above. In the case the documentation is not complete, the Licensing Authority shall not process the Timber Product Dossier. The Licensing Authority shall inform the exporter about any additional information or documentation that may be required.

(c) Check the legality and validity of documents included in the Timber Product Dossier for FLEGT Licensing. In case of suspicion of risk, the Licensing Authority shall coordinate with the Verification Authority and other verification entities for further checks and clarification of the legality of the shipment.

Step 3 Licensing decision

In case the Timber Product Dossier is deemed compliant with VNTLAS requirements, the Licensing Authority shall issue the FLEGT licence for the shipment.

In case the Timber Product Dossier is not compliant with VNTLAS requirements, the Licensing Authority shall reject the FLEGT licence application for the shipment and shall take action in line with applicable legislation in case of any detected violations.

6. Validity, withdrawal and replacement of FLEGT licences

6.1 Validity and extension of validity of FLEGT licences

A FLEGT licence shall be valid from the date on which it is issued.

The period of validity of a FLEGT licence shall not exceed six (06) months. The date of expiry shall be indicated on the licence.

After the date of expiry of the licence, the validity of the licence may be extended once for another period of a maximum of two (02) months by the FLEGT Licensing authority. In case that an extension of the validity of the licence is required, applicants shall submit a written request to the FLEGT Licensing Authority together with any explanation on the request to extend the validity of the licence. Upon such extension, the Licensing authority shall insert and validate the new expiry date in the licence.

6.2 Withdrawal of FLEGT licences

The FLEGT Licence shall be withdrawn in the following situations:

- Any violation of the exporter related to the shipment is identified after the licence has been issued;
- The FLEGT Licence expires without the export of timber products having taken place and without the request for an extension of the validity of the licence;
- The exporter voluntarily returns the licence.

6.3 Replacement of FLEGT licences

A FLEGT Licence may be replaced in the following situations:

- The FLEGT Licence is lost, stolen, or destroyed;
- The FLEGT licence contains mistakes in the preparation by the Licensing Authority;

In the event of loss, theft or destruction of the original FLEGT licence, the licensee or the licensee's authorised representative may apply to the Licensing Authority for a replacement. Together with the application, the licensee or the licensee's authorised representative shall provide an explanation for the loss, theft or destruction of the original licence.

The replacement shall contain the information and entries that appeared on the licence it replaces, including the licence number, and shall bear the endorsement "Replacement Licence". In the event that the lost or stolen licence is retrieved, it shall not be used and must be returned to the Licensing Authority.

For licences containing mistakes by the Licensing authority, the FLEGT Licensing Authority shall withdraw the FLEGT Licence and issue a corrected licence, which shall be authenticated by the stamped endorsement "Duplicate" and forwarded to the competent authority.

The replacement original license and any copies for the EU Customs Authority and the EU FLEGT Competent Authority shall contain the information included in the original license including the Original license number and date of issue of the replaced license.

6.4 FLEGT Licence re-application

A new FLEGT licence shall be requested by the exporter whenever there is a change in the timber product, HS code, species, or number of units, as well as any deviation in the weight and/or volume of the shipment by more than 10% in comparison with the FLEGT licence.

7. Management of violations related to FLEGT licensing

In case of (a) any violation or fraudulent information related to the Timber Product Dossier for FLEGT licensing, or (b) counterfeiting, altering or modifying information in the licence, or infringement of the licensing regulations, administrative or legal measures shall apply according to the level of violation, in line with Vietnamese law and regulations.

8. Responsibility of FLEGT Licensing Authority

- The FLEGT licence shall be issued to the exporter in line with relevant provisions of this Agreement.
- In any case of extending the validity, withdrawal, or replacement of the FLEGT Licence, the Licensing Authority shall inform the concerned EU Competent Authority.
- The Licensing Authority is responsible to respond to any questions of the EU Competent Authorities, as well as other authorities of Viet Nam, if there is doubt concerning the authenticity and validity of any licence, and provide additional information and clarification as requested.
- The Licensing Authority shall manage a licensing database for the applications received, including FLEGT licences issued and applications rejected.

1. INTRODUCTION

The Timber Legality Assurance System of Viet Nam (hereinafter referred to as VNTLAS) aims to ensure that timber and timber products as described in Annex I (hereinafter referred to as timber) are legal. Timber exported to the European Union (hereinafter referred to as the EU) are subject to specific provisions for FLEGT licensing as described in Annex IV.

VNTLAS is based on regulations relevant to each step of the timber supply chain, including harvesting, import, transportation, processing, trade and exports of timber.

VNTLAS is based on the national legislation in force, together with regulations introduced to implement the Agreement, which includes the participation of ministries, sectors, localities, and private sector and civil society organisations relevant to forestry and the trade of timber.

VNTLAS consists of seven system elements, as follows:

1. Timber Legality Definition (LD): Organisations and Households;
2. Development, verification and approval of verifiers at all stages of supply chains;
3. Organisations Classification System (OCS) and risk-based verification;
4. Supply chain control;
5. FLEGT licensing;
6. Internal inspection, complaints and feedback mechanisms;
7. Independent evaluation.

This Annex describes the key content of the aforementioned system elements and how, in principle, VNTLAS shall work in practice. Other Annexes and Appendices to this Annex V also provide additional information on the system functionalities.

Appendices to this Annex include:

- Appendix 1. Development, verification and approval of legality verifiers for Organisations and Households;
- Appendix 2. Supply chain control;
- Appendix 3 Standard form for self-declaration.

2. APPLICATION SCOPE

2.1 Timber sources

2.1.1 Timber sources controlled by VNTLAS

Timber sources controlled by VNTLAS include:

- Timber from domestic natural forests – defined as timber from main harvesting, salvage harvesting and salvage collection, from domestic natural forest as defined and regulated by law.
- Timber from domestic concentrated plantation forests – defined as timber from main harvesting, salvage harvesting and salvage collection from concentrated plantation forests, including both planted protection forest and planted production forest, having an area of 0.5 hectares or more and a forest strip of at least 20 meters long and 3 tree rows or more.
- Timber from home gardens, farms and dispersed trees – defined as timber exploited from trees outside planned areas for forest land and concentrated plantations, including trees around the house and garden, on roadsides, embankments and field-sides, and around temples and pagodas.
- Rubber wood – defined as rubber wood from harvesting from domestic rubber plantations on both agriculture and forest land.
- Confiscated timber – defined as timber impounded as a result of either administrative violations or criminal violations, which is handled as state assets by the Vietnamese competent authorities and thereafter put under auction as required by law.
- Imported timber – defined as all timber, including rubber wood, brought into the territory of Viet Nam from foreign countries, or to special zones in the territory of Viet Nam which are regarded as exclusive customs zones, according to provisions of the law. In VNTLAS, a distinction is made between primary and complex timber products impacting on the requirement for documentation to be provided to demonstrate the legality of imported timber. Primary products include both logs and sawn timber under the HS codes 4403, 4406 and 4407. Complex products include timber products under all the other HS codes of Chapter 44 and Chapter 94.

Details on the verification of timber sources entering VNTLAS are given in Section 6.3.

2.1.2 Timber in transit

Timber in transit is not included in VNTLAS.

"Timber products in transit" means any timber products originating from a third country, which enter the territory of Viet Nam under customs control and leave it in the same form whilst retaining their country of origin.

Transit timber remains segregated from timber entering the VNTLAS supply chain and is under the supervision of the Customs from the entry point into Viet Nam until exit from Viet Nam unprocessed according to Viet Nam laws and regulations. Transit timber is not subject to VNTLAS legality verification and is not covered by the FLEGT licencing scheme.

2.2 Scope of control

The scope of control of VNTLAS applies to:

- All timber sources listed under Section 2.1.1 of this Annex V;
- All timber product categories listed under Annex I;
- All operators (Organisations and Households) in the timber supply chain.

All principles, criteria, indicators and verifiers included in the LD for Organisations and Households are part of VNTLAS.

VNTLAS is a national system that applies to (a) all Organisations and Households and (b) all domestic and export timber markets, to which the following system elements apply:

1. Timber Legality Definition, as specified in Section 3 of this Annex V and Annex II;
2. Development, verification and approval of verifiers at all stages of supply chains, as specified in Section 4 of this Annex V;
3. Organisations classification system (OCS) and risk-based verification, as specified in Section 5 of this Annex V;
4. Supply chain control, as specified in Section 6 and 7 and Appendix 2 of this Annex V;
5. FLEGT licensing, as specified in Section 8 of this Annex V and in Annex IV;
6. Internal Inspection, complaints and feedback mechanisms, as specified in Section 9 of this Annex V;
7. Independent Evaluation, as specified in Section 10 of this Annex V and in Annex VI.

System element (5) applies to timber exports to the EU market only.

System elements (6) and (7) cover all stages of supply chains up to and including the point of FLEGT licensing (system elements 1 to 5).

2.2.1 Definition of Organisations and Households

Organisations subject to VNTLAS include forestry companies, state forest enterprises, protection forest management boards, special-use forest management boards, and cooperatives and enterprises involved at any stage of the supply chain and that have business registration.

Households subject to VNTLAS include domestic households, individuals, village communities and all other entities not belonging to the Organisations category above. Household businesses employing more than 10 labourers on a regular basis are subject to register as enterprises and are considered as Organisations in the application of the VNTLAS.

2.2.2 Definition of Government agencies

In the context of this Agreement, government agencies include several ministries and sectors at central level, technical departments under the Provincial and District Peoples Committee and Commune People’s Committees which are involved in the implementation of VNTLAS, as identified in Appendix 1A and 1B and summarized in Table 1.

2.2.3 Definition of the Verification Authority and verification entities

In the context of this Agreement, the Verification Authority comprises the Forest Protection agencies at all levels, specified as the Central Forest Protection Department (Central FPD) under the Viet Nam Administration of Forestry (VNFOREST) under the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development (MARD), the Provincial Forest Protection Department (Provincial FPD), including provincial and district offices of FPD (hereinafter referred to as the local FPD).

Verification entities are government agencies and local government authorities, or other units, agencies or individuals according to government regulation, that have responsibility for the development, verification and approval of verifiers under their area of jurisdiction as identified in Appendix 1A and 1B and summarized in Table 1.

2.3 Recognition by VNTLAS of voluntary certification and national certification schemes

A voluntary certification scheme is a market-based non-regulatory mechanism subject to third party evaluation.

A national certification scheme is a voluntary or regulatory mechanism based on a defined set of criteria subject to government assessment and monitoring.

Recognized voluntary certification and national certification schemes are taken into account as a supplementary verifier for the risk-based verification of timber imports as specified in Section 6.3.7. Imported timber with a FLEGT Licence or CITES Permit are automatically recognised as legal as specified in Section 6.3.7.

Viet Nam shall assess voluntary certification and national certification schemes according to VNTLAS requirements and decide on a list of certification schemes which shall be shared with the Joint Implementation Committee (JIC) for information.

The assessment of voluntary certification and national certification schemes shall be conducted on the basis of a methodology approved by both parties in the JIC and the methodology shall be ready before the joint assessment of VNTLAS (Annex VII). The list of recognized schemes may also be re-assessed, updated and brought to the attention of the JIC during implementation.

3. LEGALITY DEFINITION

The Legality Definition (LD) sets out the core requirements of legislation applicable to timber in Viet Nam as presented in Annex II of the Agreement.

The LD is based on existing laws and legislation in place and has been developed through consultation with government, private sector and civil society stakeholders in Viet Nam.

After ratification of the Agreement, Viet Nam shall notify the EU of any changes pertaining to verifiers or legal references in the LD through the JIC, and the JIC shall examine the extent of the changes and the impacts on the LD at least every second year during implementation of the Agreement as specified in Annex IX.

Viet Nam makes public all relevant legislation referred to in the LD and any amendments thereto, as specified in Annex VIII on Public Disclosure of Information.

3.1 Structure and content of the Legality Definition

The LD is divided into two parts: one for Organisations and one for Households, in order to cater for: (i) differences in the regulations that apply to these two target groups; (ii) differences in the size of investment and the scope and arrangement of their activities; and (iii) assuring compatibility of the LD for these two groups and making the VNTLAS clear, specific and implementable.

The differences between the LD for Organisations and the LD for Households are specified further in the introduction to Annex II.

Each part of the LD consists of seven principles, with each principle divided into Criteria, Indicators and Verifiers:

- Principle I: Harvesting of domestic timber complies with regulations on land use rights, forest use rights, management, environment and society;
- Principle II: Compliance with regulations on handling confiscated timber;
- Principle III: Compliance with regulations on importing timber;
- Principle IV: Compliance with regulations on timber transportation and trade;
- Principle V: Compliance with regulations on timber processing;
- Principle VI: Compliance with regulations on customs procedures for export;
- Principle VII (Organisations): Compliance with regulations on tax and labour;
- Principle VII (Households): Compliance with regulations on tax.

To comply with the LD, Organisations and Households shall comply with all the applicable indicators under the seven principles enforced by the Verification Authority and verification entities as defined under Section 2.2.3 and Table 1.

The compliance of the indicators is assessed on the basis of the applicable corresponding verifiers.

For an indicator to be compliant, all the relevant verifiers must be checked and conform.

4. DEVELOPMENT, VERIFICATION AND APPROVAL OF VERIFIERS AT ALL STAGES OF SUPPLY CHAINS

4.1 Definition of verifiers

Verifiers are documents referred to in Annex II that are used for Organisations and Households to demonstrate legal compliance with the corresponding indicator. For clarifying verification methodologies applied under VNTLAS, a distinction is made between ‘static’ and ‘dynamic’ verifiers, as identified for each verifier in Annex II.

4.1.1. Static verifiers

Static verifiers, as referred to in the LD, are used to verify the legal compliance of the establishment and operations of Organisations and Households in timber harvesting, processing, transportation and trade.

Static verifiers:

- Are developed and approved on a one-time basis and may be renewed on a periodic basis;
- Are verified and approved by the verification entities for each verifier on a periodic basis as required by law;

- Are used as a criterion as a part of the regular OCS assessment;
- Are made available if needed to support the exercise of ensuring the accuracy of the information and the legality of all timber when sourcing timber domestically;
- Include but are not limited to verifiers such as business registration, forest land use rights, tax, labour and environment regulations.

4.1.2. Dynamic verifiers

Dynamic verifiers, as referred to in the LD, are used to verify the legal compliance of timber origin and timber in circulation at each stage of the supply chain. Dynamic verifiers are assessed by the Verification Authority and other responsible verification entities through the regular and frequent control process in the timber supply chain and in the OCS assessment for Organisations.

Dynamic verifiers:

- Are developed and approved to demonstrate the legal compliance of individual batches of timber;
- Are made available if needed to support the exercise of due diligence and are used to verify the legality of individual batches of timber in the VNTLAS supply chain;
- Include but are not limited to verifiers such as timber packing lists and invoices as regulated by Ministry of Finance for Organisations which are included in the Timber Product Dossier at each critical control point in the supply chain;
- Are (i) verified and approved by the Verification Authority and other responsible verification entities based on frequency in accordance with the regulations applicable for each verifier and (ii) assessed systematically as part of (a) the OCS, (b) the supply chain controls and (c) verification for export.

The static and dynamic verifiers as identified in Annex II may be modified, supplemented or replaced. The Annex II shall be updated and supplemented according to Article 24 of this Agreement.

4.2 Development of verifiers

The development of verifiers is the preparation of a document or dossier of documents by Organisations and Households, or by verification entities, in accordance with Vietnamese laws and regulations as set out in Annex II and in Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex V.

According to the legal requirements stated in Annex II, verifiers can be developed by Organisations and Households involved in the timber supply chain or by verification entities for each stage of the timber supply chain.

The responsible entities in charge of developing verifiers are defined in the “Prepared by” Column of Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex V.

4.3 Verification and approval/certification of verifiers

The verification and approval of verifiers is conducted as described below.

Verification of verifiers is the process of checking the legality, validity and conformity of verifiers based on documentary and/or physical checks by the verification entities according to regulations as set out in Annex II.

The approval of verifiers by verification entities is the recognition of the compliance of each verifier according to regulations as set out in Annex II and Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex. The term of certification of verifiers is used for approval of the packing list.

The responsible entities in charge of verifying and approving verifiers are defined in the “Approved / certified by” Column of Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex. The responsible entities in charge of checking each verifier are defined in the “Checked by” Column of Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex.

4.4. Responsibilities of relevant actors

4.4.1. Responsibilities of Organisations

1. Organisations shall take responsibility for the accuracy of the information and the legality of all timber sources, including timber from domestic sources. For imported timber, Organisations shall exercise due diligence as specified in Section 6.3.7 of this Annex V.
2. Organisations are responsible for the development, verification and approval of verifiers or requiring verification entities to develop, verify and approve the verifiers for each timber purchase according to each point of the supply chain.
3. When purchasing timber from any source, Organisations must check and keep records of the verifiers of legality of the purchased timber.
4. Checks by Organisations entail ascertaining the validity, authenticity and conformity of the timber dossier, including correlation with the timber, to ensure that the sourced timber is from legal source. In case of any suspicion of risk of illegal timber, the Organisations shall not purchase the timber.

5. Organisations shall assess if the timber supplier conducts the checking and documentation of verifiers for legality of the purchased timber.

The appraisal and verification of Organisations in the OCS as specified in Section 5 of this Annex V shall review whether Organisations have adequately checked and documented verifiers of legality of the purchased timber.

4.4.2. Responsibilities of Households

1. Households shall take responsibility for accuracy of the information and the legality of all timber sources, including timber from domestic sources. For imported timber, Households shall exercise due diligence as specified in Section 6.3.7 of this Annex V.

2. Households shall take responsibility for development, verification and approval of verifiers or requiring verification entities to develop, verify and approve the verifiers for each timber purchase according to each point of the supply chain.

3. When purchasing timber from any source, Households must check and keep records of the verifiers of legality of the purchased timber.

4. Checks by Households entail ascertaining the validity, authenticity and conformity of the timber dossier, including correlation with the timber, to ensure that the sourced timber is from legal source. In case of any suspicion of risk of illegal timber, the Households shall not purchase the timber.

5. Households shall assess if the timber supplier conducts the checking and documentation of verifiers for legality of the purchased timber.

4.4.3 Responsibilities of government agencies

The responsibilities of government agencies in the development, verification and approval of verifiers are specified in Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex and summarized in Table 1.

5. ORGANISATIONS CLASSIFICATION SYSTEM AND RISK-BASED VERIFICATION

5.1 Purpose of the Organisations Classification System

The Organisations Classification System (OCS) is an integral component of the risk-based verification under VNTLAS.

The purpose of the OCS is to: (i) assess the risk level of all Organisations under VNTLAS with regard to their compliance with VNTLAS requirements in order to apply appropriate verification measures in an effective, efficient and timely manner; (ii) assess the legal compliance of Organisations with respect to static and dynamic verifiers as specified in the LD; and (iii) to reduce administrative procedures and to facilitate the production and business activities of organisations and to encourage Organisations to comply with the law.

The OCS shall apply to all Organisations in the VNTLAS supply chain.

5.2 Criteria and risk categories

Organisations are classified based on the following criteria:

- (i) Compliance with dynamic supply chain control verifiers to ensure that only legal timber enters the supply chain (as defined in Section 4.1);
- (ii) Fulfilment of supply chain control declaration and reporting requirements (as described in Section 6.5);
- (iii) Compliance with static verifiers (as defined in Section 4.1);
- (iv) Record of violations (as described in Section 11).

Viet Nam shall consider how voluntary certification schemes, voluntary due diligence and chain-of-custody systems recognized under VNTLAS can be integrated into the OCS methodology.

On the basis of these criteria, Organisations are classified into two risk categories:

- Category 1 (compliant): Organisations that meet the criteria;
- Category 2 (non-compliant): Organisations that do not fully meet the criteria or newly established Organisations.

The application of the criteria to the two risk categories is explained in Table 2.

Table 2. Minimum criteria and risk categories in the OCS

Criteria	Organisations Risk Category and minimum criteria for acceptance
	Category 1	Category 2
1. Compliance with dynamic / supply chain control verifiers to ensure that only legal timber enters the supply chain	Fully compliant	Any non-compliance
2. Fulfilment of supply chain declaration and reporting requirements	Fully compliant	Failure to submit declarations and reports

		according to legal requirement
3. Compliance with static verifiers	Fully compliant	Non-compliance
4. Record of violations and sanctions	No record of violations and sanctions	Any record of violations and sanctions
5. Other criteria		Newly established Organisations

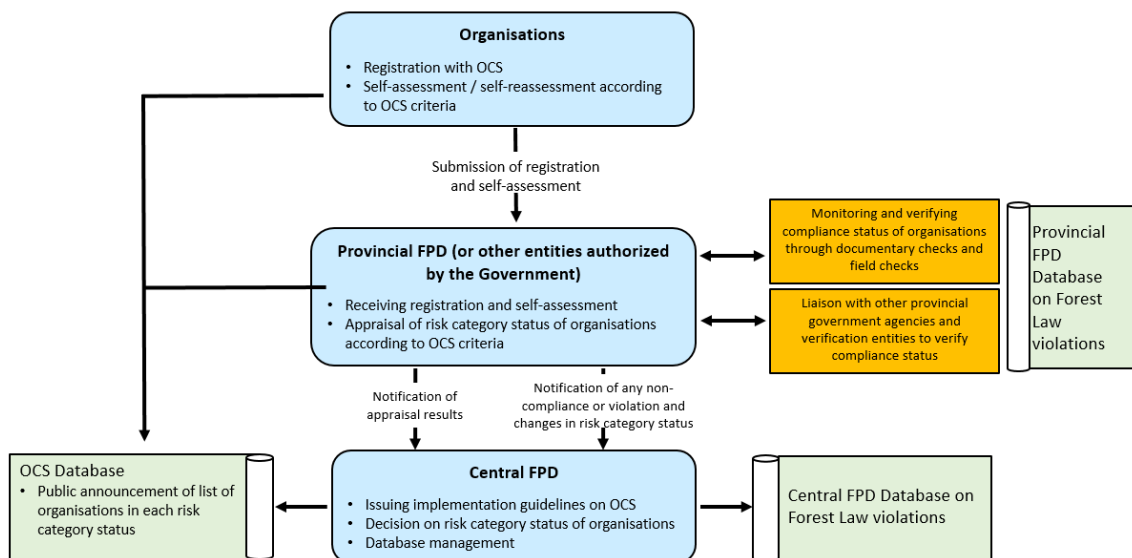

5.3 Implementation of the organisations classification system

The OCS shall be operated on a continuous basis through Self-assessment by Organisations and appraisal and verification by the Provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the Government.

The Government of Viet Nam shall issue a legislation guiding the VNTLAS implementation including the OCS. Regulations, criteria, procedures, frequencies, methodology and responsibilities of relevant actors shall be elaborated in the VNTLAS implementation guidelines.

The OCS procedure, methodology and responsibilities are described in Figure 2.

5.3.1. Self-assessment and appraisal procedure and frequency

After receiving the self-assessment conducted by Organisations, the Provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the government shall appraise the self-assessment through documentary and/or field checks according to criteria from 1 to 4 in Section 5.2 and Table 2, including for static and dynamic verifiers, information on non-compliances from other provincial government agencies and verification entities. Information on compliances of Organisations with regulations on customs procedures for import and export shall be used in the OCS assessment in line with Principles 3 and 6 of the LD in Annex II.

The frequency of the OCS procedure includes: (i) periodic organisation classification; and (ii) irregular organisation classification subject to the detection of any non-compliances or violations by Government agencies. The Self-assessment and appraisal procedure and frequency are specified in Table 3 of this Annex V.

Table 3. Self-assessment and appraisal procedure and frequency/timescale under the OCS

Procedure		Frequency/Timescale
1. Periodic organisation classification	Registration with the OCS system	All Organisations in the VNTLAS supply chain must register with the OCS.
	Self-assessment / self-reassessment by Organisations	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - First self-assessment conducted by Organisation after registration with OCS. - Second self-assessment conducted for both Category 1 and 2 within one year after the first classification decision. - Third and following assessments: + For Category 1 OCS: every two years. + For Category 2 OCS: every year.
	Appraisal of self-assessment by Provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the government and notification of appraisal results to Central FPD	Appraisal (after receiving self-assessment of Organisations) to be carried out within a specified period of time to be determined in future OCS legislation.
	Decision and announcement of classification result by Central FPD	Decision (after receiving appraisal results) to be announced within a specified period of time to be determined in future OCS legislation.
2. Irregular organisation classification	In case Organisations are subject to any administrative or criminal non-compliances and violations	Central FPD shall automatically re-classify Category 1 to Category 2 and announce the re-classification results.

5.3.2. Classification results

Public announcements on those Organisations falling into each risk category shall be regularly updated on the OCS Database managed by the Central FPD as specified in Section 12 of this Annex V and in Annex VIII.

Once registered with the OCS, Organisations shall be able to access their information and decisions on risk categorization on the OCS Database. Based on the OCS risk categories, Organisations shall prepared the corresponding Timber Product Dossier for export, as described in Section 7 of this Annex V and in Annex IV.

The OCS and the customs risk assessment system are two separate but complementary systems with different data coverage. The Customs Authority of Viet Nam and FPD shall regularly exchange information on the respective risk classification of Organisations. Whenever a change in the risk classification of Organisations takes place, this shall be notified between the two agencies and be taken into due consideration.

5.4 Responsibilities of relevant actors

5.4.1 Responsibilities of Organisations

All organisations in the supply chain are responsible for registering with the OCS and submitting Self-assessment according to the specified criteria to the Provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the Government for appraisal.

Organisations shall conduct periodic self-reassessment as described in Table 3 and submit the Self-reassessment to the Provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the Government for appraisal.

5.4.2 Responsibilities of Government agencies

The Government of Viet Nam assigns the Central FPD and Provincial FPD to have overall responsibility for the organisations classification and risk-based verification system.

The Central FPD has responsibility for:

- Preparing implementation guidelines on the organisations classification system based on regulations issued by the government;
- Creating and managing the centralized organisations classification and OCS database;

- Managing the centralized database of violations of the Law on Forest Protection and Development;
- Deciding on the risk category status of organisations based on the appraisal results notified by the Provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the government;
- Publicizing and updating the list of organisations in each risk category on the FPD website.

The Provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the government has responsibility for:

- Receiving the self-assessment of organisations registering into the system and Appraising the self-assessment;
- Re-assessing the classification status of organisations as specified in Table 3 of this Annex V;
- Monitoring compliance of Organisations with the classification criteria in a timely manner through documentary and field checks to detect any non-compliance and to propose to the Central FPD any change in the category status of Organisations from category 1 to category 2;
- Liaison with other provincial government agencies and verification entities to verify the compliance status of organisations;
- Reporting the results of the appraisal to Central FPD for decision and public announcement by Central FPD.
- Reporting to the Central FPD any non-compliance cases by Organisations in the assessment period which shall be managed and maintained in the Organisation classification and OCS database by the Central FPD.

6. SUPPLY CHAIN CONTROL

6.1 Overview

Supply chain control aims to prevent the entrance of illegal timber or unverified timber into the VNTLAS supply chain. To achieve this overarching goal, the supply chain control system ensures that:

- a) All Organisations involved in any stages of the timber supply chain are registered in the OCS;
- b) All Organisations in the timber supply chain registered in the OCS report to the Forest Protection agencies according to legal requirements;
- c) Supply chain reports are compiled and reconciled by Forest Protection agencies to identify any suspicious timber flow;

- d) Systematic, random and ad hoc physical checks by the Forest Protection agencies ensure that timber is consistent with the content of the corresponding documentation as declared by Organisations and Households, including in terms of (i) number of items, (ii) volume, and (iii) class of timber and/or species, at all stages of the supply chain;
- e) Identified suspicious timber flows are investigated by the Forest Protection agencies;
- f) Supply chain control is based on the documents required in the Timber Product Dossier at each stage of the supply chain, as specified in Appendix 2 of Annex V.

Compliance with supply chain control verifiers and supply chain reporting requirements are criteria under the OCS as specified in Section 5 and Table 2 of this Annex V.

Appendix 2 of this Annex V specifies requirements for reliable management of information associated with the timber product dossier at the different critical points of the supply chain.

6.2 Critical control points in VNTLAS supply chain

Critical control points in the VNTLAS supply chain relate to (i) the verification of timber sources entering VNTLAS (as described in Section 6.3 below) and (ii) stages in the supply chain from the point of harvest or import to the point of export.

The six critical control points in the supply chain under the VNTLAS are as follows:

1. Timber sources entering the VNTLAS:
 - 1a. Timber from main harvesting of domestic natural forest (Organisations);
 - 1b. Timber from salvage harvesting and salvage collection of domestic natural forest (Organisations and Households);
 - 1c. Timber from main harvesting, salvage harvesting and salvage collection of planted protection forests (Organisations and Households);
 - 1d. Timber from main harvesting, salvage harvesting and salvage collection of planted production forests (Organisations and Households);
 - 1e. (1) Rubber wood (Organisations);
 - 1e. (2) Rubber wood; timber from home gardens, farms and dispersed trees (Households);
 - 1f. Handled confiscated timber (Organisations and Households);
 - 1g. Imported timber (Organisations and Households).
2. 1st Transport and trade transaction of timber products.
3. 2nd transport and trade transaction of timber products.

4. Any subsequent transportation and trade of products (n).
5. Processing site.
6. Export.

6.3 Verification of timber sources entering the VNTLAS

As specified under Section 2.1 of this Annex V, all timber entering the VNTLAS is subject to specific regulations pertaining to the specific sources of timber. The verifiers for these timber sources entering the VNTLAS are specified in the LD and in Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex V.

Critical control points are established within the VNTLAS for all timber sources entering the system, as described in Section 6.2 and in Appendix 2 of this Annex V.

Appendix 2 provides a detailed list of documents to be archived by Organisations and Households and the local FPD at each critical control point of the supply chain. These documents should be made available to the provincial FPD or other entities authorized by the Government by Organisations during the OCS appraisal.

6.3.1. Timber from main harvesting of domestic natural forest (Critical control point 1a)

Viet Nam maintains strict control over the management and harvesting of timber from domestic natural forest. Timber from main harvesting from domestic natural forest entering VNTLAS is required to come from forest with approved Sustainable Forest Management Plans in addition to other specific environmental and supply chain controls as described under Criterion 1 of Principle I of Annex II (Organisations).

6.3.2. Timber from planted production and protection forests (Critical control point 1c and 1d)

The policy of the Government of Viet Nam is to encourage the development of plantation forest, in support of which favourable conditions are applied for timber growers (Organisations and Households) from the decision of land allocation or leasing to the time of planting to harvesting, transportation and trade of timber.

Legal requirements apply to timber from concentrated plantations depending on different forest categories, including planted protection forests and planted production forests, as specified in Criterion 2 and 3 of Principle 1 of Annex II (Organisations and Households).

6.3.3 Timber from salvage harvesting and salvage collection (Critical control point 1b, 1c and 1d)

Salvage harvesting from natural forest when converting land use from forest use into other uses requires measures on compensation for site clearance approved by Vietnamese competent authority. Criteria 4 under Principle I of the Annex II regulates the legal basis for the decision on land use change, the approval of measures on compensation for site clearance, and the approval of the environmental impact assessment.

Salvage timber may come from salvage harvesting and salvage collection from natural forest or concentrated plantation forest.

Salvage harvesting of timber means the harvesting of timber during the implementation of silvicultural measures, scientific research and site clearance of projects upon conversion of forest use purposes. Salvage collection of timber means the collection of fallen or dead trees due to natural disaster; burnt, rotten or dry timber and branches of timber remaining in forest.

Regulations for salvage harvesting and collection are specified in Criteria 2 to 7 of Principle I of Annex II LD (Organisations and Households), including the following:

- Criterion 2 and Criterion 3: Compliance with regulations on salvage harvesting and salvage collection from planted protection forest and planted production forest.
- Criterion 4: Compliance with regulations on salvaging harvesting on natural forested areas converted from forest land use to other land uses.
- Criterion 5: Compliance with regulations on salvage harvesting of natural forest while implementing silviculture measures, scientific researches and training.
- Criterion 6: Compliance with regulations on salvage collection of stumps, roots, branches in natural forests.
- Criterion 7: Compliance with regulations on salvage collection of stumps, roots, branches in plantation forests.

6.3.4 Timber from home gardens, farms and dispersed trees (Critical control point 1e (2))

VNTLAS requirements related to the harvesting of timber from home gardens, farms and dispersed trees only apply to Households, and are specified in Criterion 7, under Principle 1 of Annex II (Households). The harvesting of timber from this source is described in the Introduction to Annex II.

6.3.5 Rubber wood (from domestic sources) (Critical control point 1e (1) and 1e (2))

Rubber trees in Viet Nam are considered as a multi-purpose industrial crop and are planted and harvested from both agriculture and forest land. For rubber wood and products manufactured from rubber wood that are harvested from any domestic sources entering VNTLAS, it is necessary to present a Timber Product Dossier that demonstrates legal origin, in line with the requirements as set out under Principle I of Annex II (Criterion 8 for Organisations and Criterion 8 for Households).

Imported rubber wood is considered as imported timber and is subject to the provision under Section 6.3.7 of this Annex V.

6.3.6 Handled confiscated timber (Critical control point 1f)

Confiscated timber, as State asset, is handled and managed in accordance with the law and regulations of Viet Nam. Handled confiscated timber is allowed to enter the VNTLAS supply chain and is eligible for FLEGT licensing on the condition that the procedures for handling confiscated timber described below have been followed.

- Step 1: Decisions on handling the administrative violations or handling the evidence of violation by State agencies with jurisdiction for confiscation of violated forest products, together with written minutes of treating the violation and list of confiscated products.
- Step 2. Local forest rangers prepare a list of the confiscated forest products (with hammer marks for round timber with diameter of ≥ 25 cm and length ≥ 1 m).
- Step 3: Establishment of asset valuation council to determine the starting price for auction of confiscated evidence/assets, with the starting price complying with provisions of the law on enforcement of civil judgments.
- Step 4: Contract for asset auction: authorizing asset auction by the professional auction centre or auction business (for material evidence of administrative violations authorized by central or provincial authorities); or authorizing asset auction by the district council (for material evidence of administrative violations authorized by the district authorities);
- Step 5. Publicity of the auction event.
- Step 6. Registration of auction participants.
- Step 7. Organisation of the auction.
- Step 8. Contract for the purchase of auctioned assets.
- Step 9. Payment for purchase of the assets, delivery of the assets.
- Step 10. Issuance of certificates of ownership of auctioned assets.

Confiscated timber is legally allowed to enter VNTLAS and the supply chain on evidence of Contract for purchase of auctioned assets, Certificate of ownership and utilization rights of auctioned assets, VAT Invoice and Packing list of auctioned forest products, as described under Principle II of Annex II.

Data on the quantity and type of confiscated timber at (a) the point of confiscation and (b) post-auction are recorded in the FPD database on violations of the Law on Forest Protection and Development as described Section 11 of this Annex V, and monitored and checked throughout the supply chain by the Forest Protection Agencies.

6.3.7 Imported timber (Critical control point 1g)

The control and management of imported timber to Viet Nam is subject to legislation and regulations described in Principle III of Annex II (Organisations and Households) and the following three risk-based verification filters and measures shall apply:

1. Customs risk assessment system;
2. Species risk categories;
3. Risk associated to geographic origin of timber.

The use of the above three filters shall determine:

- a) The need for additional physical checks;
- b) The need for additional documentation to demonstrate legality of imported timber.

The procedures for the control and management of timber imported to Viet Nam are shown in Figure 3 of this Annex V.

The need for additional physical checks and additional documentation to demonstrate legality of imported timber is specified in Table 4 of this Annex V.

One of the following three alternative ways to demonstrate legality of imported timber is required:

1. Valid FLEGT licence or equivalent export licence covering the entire shipment from an exporting country which has concluded a VPA with the EU and has an operational FLEGT licensing system in place; or
2. Valid CITES permit covering the entire shipment; or
3. A Self-declaration demonstrating due diligence and additional documentation according to the risk categories status of the imported timber as specified in Table 4 of this Annex V.

The controls described in this section apply to all customs declarants including Organisations and individuals as defined by Viet Nam customs regulations, and Organisations and Households as defined under VNTLAS.

6.3.7.1 Due diligence and self-declaration requirement of importers

In addition to the verification activities carried out by verification entities, importers shall take responsibility for the legality of imported timber in accordance with the relevant legislation of the country of harvest. For this purpose they shall exercise due diligence over the legal origin of imported timber, which covers collection of information, risk assessment and mitigation of any risk identified. Importers shall be required to obtain information, and additional documentation on the legality of timber in the country of harvest, independent of the type of product (primary or complex) or length of the supply chain.

Relevant legislation' means the legislation in force in the country of harvest covering the following matters:

- Rights to harvest: Granting of rights to harvest timber, including compliance with legislation and procedures on forest land allocation and forest use and land use rights.
- Forestry activities: Compliance with legal requirements regarding forest management and timber processing, including compliance with relevant environmental and labor legislation.
- Taxation and fees: Compliance with legal requirements on taxes, royalties and fees directly related to timber harvesting and timber trade.
- Trade and customs: Compliance with legal requirements on trading and customs procedures.

The due diligence shall be documented through a Self-declaration as specified in the template provided in Appendix 3 of this Annex V. The Self-declaration shall be required for all imported timber shipments without CITES permit, or FLEGT licence or equivalent export licence covering the entire shipment from an exporting country which has concluded a VPA with the EU and has an operational FLEGT licensing system in place. The Self-declaration shall be submitted together with applicable Customs documentation.

The Self-declaration provides:

- a) Description of the shipment;
- b) Identification of potential risk related to the legality of the shipment in accordance with the relevant legislation in the country of harvest;
- c) Mitigation measures for any identified potential risk related to the legal origin;
- d) List and attachment of additional document as evidence of legal origin as indicated in Table 4.

When required, additional documentation to be included in the Self-declaration shall consist of at least one of the three following elements:

1. Voluntary certification or national certification schemes recognized by VNTLAS;
2. Harvesting document in accordance with the legislation of the country of harvest corresponding to the imported shipment for primary products;
3. Alternative additional documentation demonstrating legality of timber in accordance with the legislation of the country of harvest, in case the harvesting document is not required for primary products in the country of harvest, or in case the importers cannot obtain the harvesting document for complex products.

Regarding the alternative additional documentation requirements, Viet Nam shall develop specific implementation guidelines to implement the Agreement.

On suspicion of risk, the verification entities shall carry out additional checks on the legality of the imported shipment. The importer may use the information from due diligence to demonstrate the legality of the imported shipment.

Viet Nam shall issue legislation requiring importers to conduct due diligence as indicated in this section. In case of non-compliance with this legislation, adequate, proportionate and dissuasive administrative or criminal sanctions shall be imposed in accordance with the applicable legislation of Viet Nam.

6.3.7.2 Handling of violations

In the case of detection of illegal timber imports by the customs authority or any other agencies, the relevant Vietnamese competent authority under its area of jurisdiction or in coordination with law enforcement agencies shall handle the violation including rejection or seizure of the shipment in line with the laws and regulations of Viet Nam.

In the case of detection of illegal timber imports, the agency which has detected the illegal timber imported shall coordinate with other relevant agencies and shall notify FPD of the detected violation. FPD shall update the database on violations of the Law on Forest Protection and Development in accordance with Section 11.2.1 of this Annex V.

6.3.7.3 Customs risk assessment system

According to applicable customs legislation of Viet Nam, the classification of levels of risk incurred from import and export shall be carried out on the basis of the degree of the customs declarant's compliance with the law.

In the process of risk level classification, the Customs authorities shall consider related factors including but not limited to: the customs declarants' compliance with customs and tax regulations; the frequency, nature and severity of any violations; the nature of the commodities; the origin of imports and exports; the route and mode of transportation; and other factors relating to import and export.

The Customs authorities shall evaluate and classify risks imposed on customs declarants and import and export shipments according to different levels (Red, Yellow, Green) in order to apply proper measures for customs examination, supervision and inspection.

- Red / High Risk: the Customs authority shall conduct physical checks at the border-gate. All shipments in the Customs red category shall be physically checked. The specific percentage of the checking within each shipment is from 5% to 100% of the volume of the shipment and depends on the decision by the head of the customs post.
- Yellow / Medium Risk: the Customs Authority shall conduct dossier checks of the shipment. If necessary, the Customs Authority shall conduct physical checks of the shipment.
- Green / No Risk: the Customs Authority shall allow automatic clearance based on the customs declaration. If necessary, the Customs Authority shall conduct physical checks of the shipment.

Customs inspection may be conducted at the border-gate or through post-customs clearance procedures according to the level of risk. Post-customs clearance can be applied to import shipments including timber. In line with customs legislation, the Customs Authority shall apply risk management methods to decide on the scope, contents, and method of post-clearance inspection of the imported shipment. Post-clearance inspection of the customs dossiers and goods granted clearance shall be carried out within 5 years from the registration date of the customs declaration.

Close coordination is maintained between the Customs authorities and Forest Protection agency in the control and check of timber imports including both border-gate and post-customs clearance checks on a regular/systematic basis and in addressing cases of suspicion of risk.

6.3.7.4 Species risk categories

Importers shall be required to declare species name (including scientific name and common name) in the importation process. In case of any doubt on the species declaration, inspection shall be conducted by the competent Vietnamese technical authority to confirm species identification.

Imported timber species shall be classified into 2 groups: high risk and low risk, based on the following criteria:

- High risk species are defined as those listed in Appendix I, II, III of CITES; critically endangered, precious, and rare species in Group IA and IIA according to legislation of Viet Nam on controlled timber species; and species illegally traded according to the FPD database of violations of the Law on Forest Protection and Development and the database of the Customs authority of Viet Nam.

The Joint Implementation Committee (JIC) shall consider additional species which are at risk of being endangered in the country of harvest or illegally traded, as officially proposed by Viet Nam or the EU to the JIC, or based on information from the United Nations Organisation for Drugs and Crimes (UNODC), Interpol, CITES Secretariat, or World Customs Organisation (WCO), for inclusion on the list of high risk species.

Species which are imported into Viet Nam for the first time shall be considered as high risk unless otherwise decided by the JIC.

Complex timber products that combine both high risk and low risk species shall be treated as high risk.

- Low risk species are defined as those not belonging to the above category.

The applied criteria and methodology shall result in a list of high risk species that shall be reviewed, supplemented and adjusted during implementation of the Agreement and decided by the JIC during its meetings.

Based on the decision of the JIC, the Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development shall issue a legislation presenting the list of high risk species that shall be updated periodically as required according to decision of JIC. The Customs authorities shall take into account this legislation to change their procedures regarding the obligation of importers to provide additional documentation for timber import as defined in Table 4 of this Annex V.

6.3.7.5 Risk associated to geographic origin of imported timber

Information on legal requirements for timber export in the country of origin shall be taken into account in the risk-based approach to assess the legal origin of imported timber.

The risk associated to geographic origin of imported timber shall be considered in the control and management of timber imported to Viet Nam.

Countries are considered low risk if:

- a) they have an operative TLAS in place issuing FLEGT licences; or

- b) they have binding national regulatory frameworks on due diligence for timber legality covering the whole supply chain to the country of harvest recognized by Viet Nam as meeting the VNTLAS criteria; or
- c) the indicator for effectiveness of government according to the World Bank Worldwide Governance Indicators (WGI) is from 0 and above, and a regulatory system for CITES implementation is rated I-level as announced by the CITES Secretariat, and one of the two following are met:
 - (i) Viet Nam has a bilateral agreement on timber legality with these countries, recognized by Viet Nam as meeting the VNTLAS criteria provided that these agreements have been published, or
 - (ii) Countries have a national regulatory timber certification schemes recognized by Viet Nam as meeting the VNTLAS criteria.

The applied criteria and methodology shall result in a list of low risk countries and territories that shall be reviewed, supplemented and adjusted during implementation of the Agreement and brought to the attention of the JIC during its meetings.

The Ministry of Agriculture and Rural Development shall issue a legislation presenting the list of low risk countries that shall be updated periodically as required according to decision of JIC. The Customs authorities shall take into account this legislation to change their procedures regarding the obligations of importers to provide additional documentation for timber import as defined in Table 4 of this Annex V.

6.3.7.6 Risk-based control and management of timber imports

According to the criteria for risk management in the three above mentioned systems, timber imported into Viet Nam is controlled and managed by the Customs authorities as described in the Figure 3.

The Customs authorities shall carry out systematic documentary checks for imported timber on the basis of the following documents:

- a) Applicable Customs documentation, and
- b) Self-declaration, including any relevant additional documentation, or
- c) Valid CITES permit, or valid FLEGT licence.

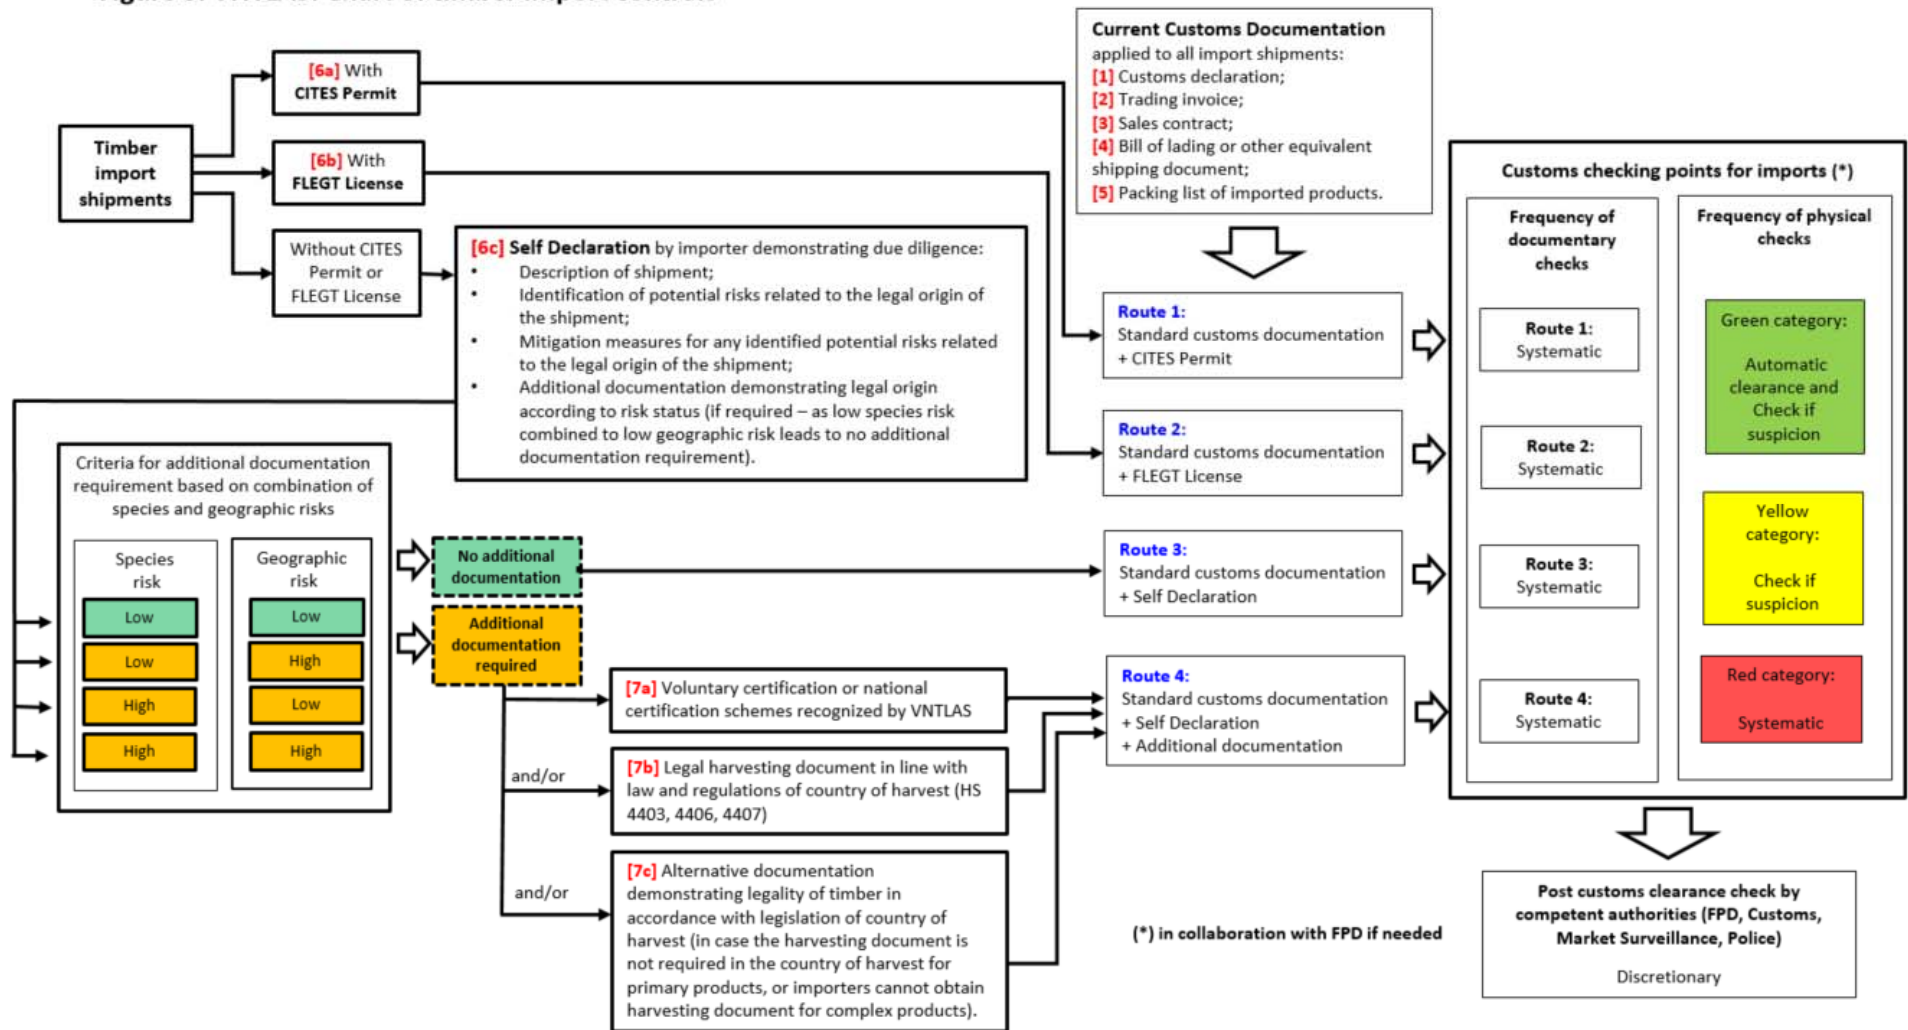

The risk-based control and management of timber imports to Viet Nam is presented in Table 4.

Table 4. Risk-based control and management of timber imported to Viet Nam without FLEGT licence or CITES permit

No	Risk status of the shipment		Verification measures based on the risk status of the shipment
	Species risk category	Geographic origin risk category	Additional documentation
1	Low	Low	No
2	Low	High	Yes
3	High	Low	Yes
4	High	High	Yes

The Customs authorities shall in addition carry out physical checks on the basis of the customs risk assessment categories. The level of physical checks is determined according to decision of the Customs authority. The Customs authority shall decide to apply physical checks if necessary on the shipments belonging to the green and yellow categories.

6.4 Verification of timber at stages in the supply chain of VNTLAS

Timber is subject to verification at the stages of the entry of timber into VNTLAS (Critical control point 1), transportation and trade transactions (Critical control points 2, 3 and 4(n)), the processing sites, including input and output monitoring (Critical control point 5) and export (Critical control point 6). Verification of timber at these stages in the supply chain can include:

- Checking and certification of the Timber Product Dossier in accordance with Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex V;
- Verification of information in input and output monitoring books of Organisations in accordance with Appendix 1A and 1B of this Annex V;
- Systematic, random and ad hoc physical inspections in accordance with Section 6.5.2 of this Annex V;
- Review of the archived documents of Organisations during OCS appraisal in accordance with Section 5.3 of this Annex V;
- Review of the checks and documenting of verifiers of legality of purchased timber as conducted by Organisations in accordance with Section 4.4.1 of this Annex V.

6.5 Supply chain reporting requirements

All Organisations are responsible for submitting regular reports on supply chain in line with the legal requirements, as follows:

- a) Organisations involved in timber harvesting must submit monthly reports to the Forest Protection Agency;
- b) Organisations involved in timber processing and trade must submit quarterly reports to the Forest Protection Agency.
- c) Organisations involved in the supply chain must maintain input and output monitoring books, the information from which is aggregated on monthly basis.

Requirements for the composition and archiving of the Timber Product Dossier at critical control points in supply chain are specified in Appendix 2 of this Annex V.

Consolidated reports are developed by Forest Protection agency at all levels according to periodicity defined by current regulations and the reconciliation requirements in Section 6.6.2.

Further details on the management and storage of supply chain information are presented in Section 12 of this Annex V.

6.6 Responsibilities of relevant actors

6.6.1 Responsibilities of Organisations and Households

Organisations and Households shall take responsibility when sourcing timber to ensure that only legal timber enters the supply chain, including when sourcing timber domestically, and shall exercise due diligence when sourcing imported timber, as specified in Section 4.4 of this Annex V.

Organisations and Households are responsible for documenting and reporting timber inputs and outputs, complying with reporting requirements to the relevant Government agencies as stipulated by the legislation and regulations, in order to allow for volume based reconciliation and identification of suspicious timber flows as stipulated in Section 6.6.2 below. These responsibilities are specified in Appendix 2 of this Annex V.

6.6.2 Responsibilities of Government agencies

The timber supply chain control system is conducted by a number of Government agencies, of which the local Forest Protection Agencies have the main responsibility for conducting checks at each stage of the supply chain and archiving documents, as specified in Appendix 2 of this Annex V.

The responsibility of Forest Protection Agencies for supply chain control includes:

- a) Reception, entry and archiving of supply chain declarations by Organisations and Households.
- b) Systematic, random and ad hoc physical inspections, particularly on the basis of the analyses of supply chain data.
- c) Analysis of data to provide for volume-based reconciliations between:
 - (i) quantitative data at different stages of the supply chain as identified in Section 6.2;
 - (ii) quantitative data of suppliers and buyers;
 - (iii) data declared by Organisations and Households and the physical batch of timber;
 - (iv) input and output analysis at processing sites;
 - (v) Organisations and Households in the context of investigations of suspicious timber flows.
- d) Verify and endorse information in input and output monitoring books of Organisations handling timber from domestic natural forests.
- e) Inspect input and output monitoring books of Organisations as a part of systematic inspection and a part of ad hoc inspection on suspicion of risk.

The above reconciliation functions are carried out at each stage of the supply chain according to existing procedures as well as data collection and management systems, to be revised or developed before the FLEGT licensing regime is operational.

Supply chain control is conducted according to a plan including systematic and random checks. Ad hoc checks are conducted on identifying or receiving any information of any sign of violation by Organisations and Households.

At each stage of the supply chain, the checks by the Forest Protection Agency include the following elements:

- a) Conformity between the Timber Product Dossier and actual timber;
- b) Archiving of the Timber Product Dossier;
- c) Examination of other verifiers relevant to different categories of timber at each stage of the supply chain for Households and Organisations;
- d) On identification of suspicious timber flows, checking conformity between suppliers and buyers.

The responsibility of the Customs Authority for the control of transit timber includes:

- a) Reception, entry and archiving of customs dossiers by traders.
- b) Systematic, random and ad hoc documentary and physical inspections, particularly on the basis of the Customs risk assessment system.

- c) Carry out and provide data for volume-based reconciliations between points of entry and exit of transit timber.

The management of violations of supply chain control is described further in Section 11 of this Annex V.

7. VERIFICATION FOR EXPORT

7.1 General principles for the verification for export

Verification for export aims at assessing whether a shipment of timber to be exported is fully compliant with all VNTLAS requirements.

The level of verification for export for Organisations is based on the OCS and risk-based verification as described in Section 5 and Table 2 above. Different levels of verification apply to each Organisation risk category, as well as to Households, as follows:

- Category 1 Organisations: no additional verification.
- Category 2 Organisations: Documentary checks and physical checks on all shipments. Physical checks shall be carried out on a minimum of 20% of volume of each shipment of the Organisation.
- Households: Documentary checks and physical checks on all shipments. Physical checks shall be carried out on a minimum of 20% of volume of each shipment of the Household.

Timber is subject to verification at every stage of the supply chain prior to exporting. At the exporting stage, exporters (Organisations and Households) shall prepare and submit the Timber Export Dossier.

The verification of the Timber Export Dossier shall apply to both Organisations and Households as described below and in Figure 4 and Figure 5 of this Annex V.

In case of suspicion of risk, including any suspicion that the shipment may include round wood or sawn timber which may be sourced from domestic natural forest which is prohibited from export, or from unauthorised sources such as transit timber, the Verification Authority must conduct documentary and physical checks on the shipment. In the case non-compliance is detected, sanctions shall be applied according to law as specified in Section 11 of this Annex V.

Physical checks of the shipment include checking the legitimacy, validity and consistency of HS code, quantity, volume and species between the Timber Export Dossier and actual timber in the shipment. Upon these checks, if any suspicion persists, further checks are conducted.

Following the verification process for FLEGT licensing, shipments of Organisations or Households which do not meet all VNTLAS requirements cannot be granted FLEGT licences.

8. FLEGT LICENSING

FLEGT licences shall be granted for each export shipment of timber that is listed under Annex I of this Agreement and exported to the EU market provided that such shipment and the exporter have met with all the requirements set out in Annex II and supply chain control and verification under VNTLAS.

As an element of VNTLAS, Internal Inspection is carried out according to the Law on Inspection. Inspection activities aim to detect loopholes in laws, regulations and management mechanisms and to recommend solutions to the relevant government agencies; to prevent and combat corruption; to detect and handle violations of the law; to assist government agencies, organisations and individuals in properly observing the law; to protect the interests of the state and the legitimate rights and interests of organisations and individuals; and to meet the requirements of the settlement of complaints as also described in Section 9.2 in this Annex V.

Internal Inspection shall apply to system elements 1 to 5 of VNTLAS as described under Section 2.1 of this Annex V. Internal Inspection is carried out as a separate function of the State administration agencies and is not directly linked to individual FLEGT licensing decisions. Outcomes of Internal Inspections related to the implementation of VNTLAS shall be communicated timely to the JIC and the Independent Evaluation according to the provisions of applicable Vietnamese law. Internal Inspection of VNTLAS may be carried out at the request of the JIC.

Internal Inspection is conducted at all levels by competent agencies that include: national, provincial and district inspectorates; inspection units within central government ministries and provincial technical departments; and by people's inspection boards. Inspection activities are carried out in the form of planned and regular inspection, and unexpected inspection upon detecting signs of violations of the law by Government agencies, organisations or individuals.

Internal inspection covers both administrative inspection and specialized inspection in specific sectors and domains, including the implementation of laws, regulations and management mechanisms, the performance of tasks and exercise of powers by government agencies and by organisations and individuals under management of these agencies.

9.2 Complaints, denunciations and feedback mechanisms

Complaints by Organisations and Households concerning VNTLAS application and FLEGT licensing are regulated by the Law on Complaints. The Law regulates procedures for lodging complaints by domestic or foreign organisations or individuals and the settlement of complaints against administrative decisions or acts of administrative agencies or persons in these agencies. The receipt, response to and settlement of complaints is further subject to the procedures for Internal Inspection as described in Section 9.1 of this Annex V.

Questions, complaints and denunciations from organisations or individuals shall be received by the Verification Authority and FLEGT Licensing Authority either independently to VNFOREST or through established feedback mechanisms through the representative timber industry associations and socio-political organisations. This includes denunciations without name and address of denunciators provided they are clear and supply concrete evidence in relation to acts of corruption or violations of the law. All identified denunciators shall be protected.

Feedback on VNTLAS implementation may go through policy dialogues and forums organised by the government, by representative industry associations, by socio-political organisations and by civil society organisations according to the laws of Viet Nam. The JIC shall be regularly informed on the outcome of any policy dialogues or forums related to VNTLAS implementation.

10. INDEPENDENT EVALUATION

The independent evaluation is the periodic evaluation of the implementation, efficiency and credibility of the VNTLAS. The Independent Evaluation shall also identify potential weaknesses and risks in the structures and implementation arrangements of the VNTLAS and propose solutions in this regard.

Existing laws and regulations of Viet Nam apply for handling non-compliances with the LD and supply chain controls. Depending on the severity of the violation, administrative sanctions, suspension of activities and/or prosecution of the Organisation or Household may apply.

For Organisations: the record of violations is taken into account as one criterion under the OCS as specified in Section 5 and Table 2 of this Annex V. If Organisations have repeated administrative violations or criminal violations of the law related to forest protection and development and control of forest products, stricter sanctions shall be applied.

For Households: the record of violations is used as a basis for consideration of applying stricter sanctions if Households have repeated administrative violations or criminal violations of the law related to forest protection and development and control of forest products.

It is required that any violations are addressed according to the procedures and timeframe prescribed by laws and regulations of Viet Nam.

11.2 Record of violations

If the systematic or random checks detect non-compliance within the timber supply chain, the Forest Protection Agency shall conduct additional verification.

In case of detecting violations, violation minutes are made by the Forest Protection Agency in accordance with the regulations.

Violations are recorded on a central violations database as described below.

The record of violations includes violations of the law in forestry and other key sectors under the LD. Adequate records of violations and records of corresponding remedial actions are kept in relevant databases on the handling of violations recorded in the OCS database and taken into account in the verification process prior to FLEGT licensing.

11.2.1 Database of violations of the Law on Forest Protection and Development

This database, in which forest-related violations of the law by Organisations and Households at the national scale is continuously updated and integrated, is used to assess the legal compliance of all Organisations and Households, not only at their headquarter-based localities but also in other regions where they engage in forest production and business activities.

This database is managed by the Central FPD and is connected with Provincial FPD nationwide through an internet based platform.

11.2.2 Databases on violations of other Government agencies

ANNEX V / APPENDIX 2. SUPPLY CHAIN CONTROL

Introduction

This Appendix describes in 6 Tables the content of the Timber Product Dossier at each critical control point of the supply chain and the archiving requirements for Organisations and Households and the Forest Protection agencies (FPD).

For Organisations:

- Table 1. Management of information on timber sources for Organisations – Points of entry in the supply chain;
- Table 2. Management of information on timber in circulation in VNTLAS after points of entry in the supply chain for timber from natural forest, import and handled confiscated for Organisations;
- Table 3. Management of information on timber in circulation in VNTLAS after points of entry in the supply chain for timber from concentrated plantation forest, gardens, farms, dispersed trees and rubber wood for Organisations.

For Households:

- Table 4. Management of information on timber sources for Households – Points of entry in the supply chain;
- Table 5. Management of information on timber in circulation in VNTLAS after points of entry in the supply chain for timber from natural forest, import and handled confiscated for Households;
- Table 6. Management of information on timber in circulation in VNTLAS after points of entry in the supply chain for timber from concentrated plantation forest, gardens, farms, dispersed trees and rubber wood for Households.

The Timber Product Dossier is an essential element of the VNTLAS. According to Government regulation, the Timber Product Dossier should be established at each critical control point of the supply chain for both Organisations and Households. The Timber Product Dossier includes a set of documents contributing to demonstrate the legal compliance of the corresponding batch of timber products.

As set out in Section 6 of Annex V, the critical control points of the supply chains in VNTLAS are as follows:

1. Timber sources entering the VNTLAS:
 - 1a. Timber from main harvesting of domestic natural forest (Organisations);

- 1b. Timber from salvage harvesting and salvage collection of domestic natural forest (Organisations and Households);
- 1c. Timber from main harvesting, salvage harvesting and salvage collection of planted protection forests (Organisations and Households);
- 1d. Timber from main harvesting, salvage harvesting and salvage collection of planted production forests (Organisations and Households);
- 1e.(1) Rubber wood (Organisations);
- 1e.(2) Rubber wood; timber from home gardens, farms and dispersed trees (Households);
- 1f. Handled confiscated timber (Organisations and Households);
- 1g. Imported timber (organisations and Households).
- 2. 1st Transport and trade transaction of timber products.
- 3. 2nd transport and trade transaction of timber products.
- 4. Any subsequent transportation and trade of products (n).
- 5. Processing site.
- 6. Export.

Under the VNTLAS, the Timber Product Dossier can be checked under different circumstances:

- Approval, certification and check of verifiers: as defined in Appendix I of Annex V, documents in the Timber Product Dossier are subject to approval, certification and checks by FPD and other verification entities.
- OCS assessment: the legal compliance of Organisations is regularly assessed in the context of the Organisation Classification System. The frequency of OCS assessments is defined based in the organisation risk category (Category 1 or 2). The documents included in all Timber Product Dossiers under the responsibility of the Organisation are subject to checks (with up to 5 years of archiving).
- Due diligence: Organisations and Households shall take responsibility for the accuracy of the information and the legality of all timber sources, including timber from domestic sources. The Timber Product Dossier is one of the main sources of information for Organisations and Households to carry out due diligence in the context of a transaction of timber products.

Additionally, the Timber Product Dossier is the basis for monthly or quarterly reporting of timber inputs and outputs by Organisations, complying with reporting requirements to the relevant Government agencies as stipulated by the legislation and regulations allowing for volume-based reconciliation.

As illustrated in Figure 1, at all transaction stages of the supply chain, the timber seller prepares a packing list for the batch of timber that is being sold. The packing list is transferred to the timber buyer and is archived by the timber buyer, and the timber seller archives a copy of the packing list:

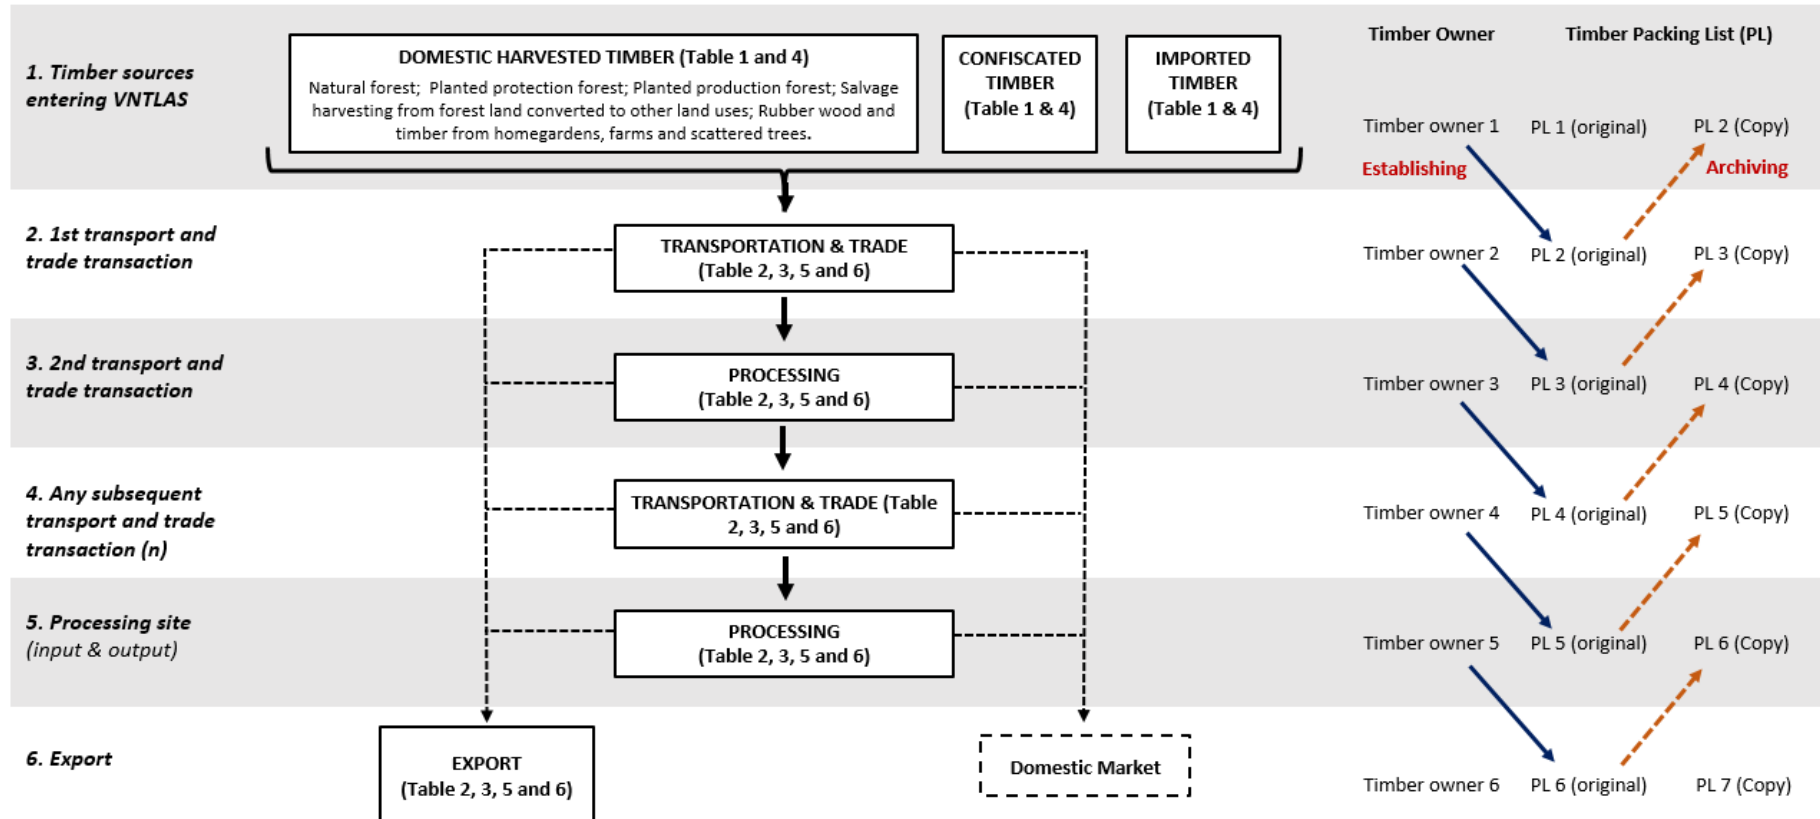

- Packing list 1 is prepared by the first owner of the batch of timber at the entry points of the supply chain in VNTLAS (i.e. harvesting, import, confiscated timber, etc.) and is archived by the first owner.
- Packing list 2 is prepared by the first timber owner who sells a batch of timber to the second owner. The packing list 2 accompanies the batch of timber that is transferred to the second owner. Packing list 2 is archived by the second owner and the first owner retains the copy of packing list 2.
- Packing list 3 is prepared by the second timber owner who sells a batch of timber to the third owner. The packing list 3 accompanies the batch of timber that is transferred to the third owner. Packing list 3 is archived by the third owner and the second owner retains the copy of packing list 3.
- Subsequent transactions along the supply chain follow similar procedure.

NOTE:

Packing lists (original) made by each timber when selling or transportation occurs as a mandatory part of the Timber Product Dossier and circulating with timber. The copy of the packing list is archived by the timber owner. The number of transactions in the supply chain varies according to the specific timber products and stages at which the products are sold onto the domestic or export market.

ANNEX VII

CRITERIA FOR ASSESSMENT OF THE OPERATIONAL READINESS OF THE VIET NAM TIMBER LEGALITY ASSURANCE SYSTEM

Purpose of the assessment

The Voluntary Partnership Agreement between the European Union (EU) and Viet Nam includes the development and implementation of the Viet Nam Timber Legality Assurance System (VNTLAS) to ensure the legality of timber as set out in Annex V of the Agreement.

This Annex specifies criteria for the assessment of the operational readiness of the VNTLAS according to Article 12 of the Agreement.

All the elements of the VNTLAS shall be independently assessed in terms of technical aspects before the FLEGT Licensing Scheme for timber exports from Viet Nam to the EU commences.

Terms of Reference for this independent technical assessment shall be subject to agreement between Viet Nam and the EU through the Joint Implementation Committee (JIC). The assessment criteria set out in this Annex shall form the basis for the Terms of Reference.

This assessment aims to:

- Review the VNTLAS as described in the Agreement and how it will operate;
- Assess the readiness of VNTLAS to be put into operation, including whether the measures underpinning the FLEGT Licensing Scheme adequately fulfil their functions;
- Assess whether Organisations and Households along the supply chain are ready for implementation of VNTLAS;
- Assess aspects related to the capacity of the relevant verification entities for verification, licensing, data management and information systems; and
- Examine any revisions, agreed by the parties, made to the VNTLAS after the Agreement was signed.

Methodology for implementation of the assessment

The assessment of the VNTLAS shall be carried out according to a stepwise approach whereby gaps and weaknesses in the VNTLAS which may be identified during the assessment are progressively addressed through the planned implementation of corrective measures.

Assessment Criteria

Part 1: Definition of legality

Legally-produced timber is defined in Article 2(j) of the Agreement. The definition of legally-produced timber (hereinafter referred to as the Definition) is clear, objectively verifiable, and operationally workable and refers to at least relevant provisions in the following areas:

- Rights to harvest: Granting of rights to harvest timber, including compliance with legislation and procedures on forest land allocation and forest use and land use rights.
- Forestry activities: Compliance with legal requirements regarding forest management and timber processing, including compliance with relevant environmental and labor legislation.
- Taxation and fees: Compliance with legal requirements on taxes, royalties and fees directly related to timber harvesting and timber trade.
- Trade and customs: Compliance with legal requirements on trading and customs procedures.

Key questions on relevant laws and regulations:

1.1.1: Are the legal provisions clearly identified in the Definition?

1.1.2: Is it clear which legislation and specific regulations apply to each principle, criterion and indicator of the Definition?

1.1.3: Are principles, criteria and indicators that can be used to test compliance with each element of the Definition specified?

1.1.4: Are the verifiers which are used to verify compliance with each principle and criterion of the Definition specifically based on documented legal references?

1.1.5: Are the verifiers clear, objective and operationally workable?

1.1.6: Are the roles and responsibilities of all relevant stakeholders and verification entities identified clearly for each verifier?

1.1.7: Does the Definition cover the main contents of current laws and regulations related to VNTLAS? If not, why are some contents not reflected in the Definition?

1.1.8: Have the contents of relevant legal regulations been considered through the stakeholder engagement in developing the Definition?

1.1.9: Have the recommendations made by stakeholders during such consultations been included in the Definition?

1.1.10: Is the matrix on legality adjusted after the signing the Agreement? Are verifiers identified to ensure the verification of such adjustments?

In case of any amendments to the Definition after signing the Agreement, the key additional questions are:

1.2.1: Have relevant stakeholders being consulted on the amendment and have their recommendations been taken into account?

1.2.2: Is it clear what legislation and specific regulations apply to each new element of the Definition? Are criteria and indicators that can be used to test compliance with each element of the definition specified? Are the criteria and indicators clear, objective and operationally workable?

1.2.3: Have indicators and criteria been defined to ensure verification of these changes? Do the Verifiers clearly identify the roles and responsibilities of the relevant stakeholders and verification entities?

Part 2: Control of the supply chain

The supply chain control system must be reliable in terms of tracing the origins of timber products throughout the supply chain from harvesting or import to the point of export. It is not always necessary to trace the origin of timber, timber consignment or timber product from the point of export back to the forest of origin; however, detailed traceability is necessary from the point of import or harvesting location to the first mixing facilities (e.g. processing facility).

2.1. Timber use rights

There is clear delineation of areas where forest land use rights have been allocated and identification of the holders of those rights; and use rights over confiscated timber are clearly identified. Key questions include:

2.1.1: Does the control system ensure that only timber harvested from clearly allocated land according to the Definition is allowed to enter the supply chain?

2.1.2: Does the control system ensure that confiscated timber is allowed to enter the supply chain only under the defined conditions?

2.1.3: Does the control system ensure that harvesting Organisations and Households have been granted the usage rights for such forests?

2.1.4: Are the procedures to grant the usage rights and information on these rights as well as their corresponding holders made public?

2.2. Control of the supply chain

There are effective mechanisms and procedures for the control of flows of timber and timber products throughout the supply chain from harvesting or point of import to the point of final sale in Viet Nam or export. Key questions include:

2.2.1: Has each critical control point in the supply chain been identified and described in the VNTLAS?

2.2.2: Do the control measures regulate and document (a) the origin of timber and (b) prevent the mixing of timber of unknown origin in the supply chain?

2.2.3: Which agencies are responsible for the control of timber flows? Do these agencies have sufficient staff and resources to implement these controlling measures?

2.2.4: Is information archived by Organisations, Households and the FPD at each control point as specified in Appendix 2 of Annex V?

2.2.5: Is information from monthly and quarterly reports from Organisations collected and reconciled to provide for requirements identified under: 2.3.4, 2.3.5, 3.4.5, 3.4.6?

2.3. Quantities

There are robust and effective mechanisms for measuring and recording the quantities of timber or timber products at each stage of the supply chain, including reliable pre-harvesting estimates of the volume of standing timber in each harvesting site. Key questions include:

2.3.1: Is the controlling system capable of providing quantitative data on inputs and outputs at the critical control points of the supply chain?

2.3.2: Is the function of information systems for legality verification of the supply chain clearly defined?

2.3.3: Which agencies are responsible for putting these quantitative data into the controlling system? How is the data quality controlled?

2.3.4: Are quantitative data recorded in a way which makes it possible to reconcile them with the prior and subsequent critical control point of the supply chain in a timely manner?

2.3.5: Does the controlling system allow for reconciliation of timber quantities according to national standards or international standards where appropriate?

2.3.6: Are personnel in charge of the controlling system appropriately trained?

2.3.7: Which data in the supply chain controlling system can be made public? How can interested stakeholders get access to these data?

2.4. Imported timber products

There are legislation, control measures and procedures to ensure that imported timber products are in accordance with the relevant legislation in the country of harvest. Key questions include:

2.4.1: How is the import of legal timber and timber products reflected in the supply chain control?

2.4.2: How can the traceability of imported timber and timber products be ensured? Are the timber and timber products verifiable throughout the supply chain?

2.4.3: Where imported timber is used, can the country of harvest be identified on the FLEGT Licence, including that of components in composite products?

2.4.4: What evidence is required to demonstrate that imported timber and timber products have been legally produced in the country of harvest?

2.4.5: Is the self-declaration operational? Does it allow to record the due diligence exercise to be carried out by importers, including documentation on compliance with relevant legislation in the country of harvest, analysis of risk of illegality and, when relevant, the corresponding mitigation measures?

2.4.6: Are the procedures for the implementation of the species risk and geographic risk criteria for imports operational?

2.4.7: Are the Customs Authorities and FPD prepared for the effective implementation of the self-declaration?

2.4.8: Is the VNTLAS risk-based approach to assess legality of imported timber operational and efficient?

2.4.9: How is the functioning of coordination of verification entities to ensure that only legal timber is imported in Viet Nam? Do they have adequate resources?

Part 3: Verification

Verification provides adequate control to ensure the legality of timber. Verification must be effective to ensure that any non-compliance with requirements as contained in the Definition, either in the forest or within the supply chain, is identified and action is taken in a timely manner to resolve the problem. Key questions include:

3.1. Verification agencies

3.1.1: Does the Government assign one or more than one agency to carry out verification activities? Is the authority, and responsibility, of such agencies clearly and publicly identified?

3.1.2: Do verification entities (Verification Authority and other verification entities) involved in VNTLAS have adequate resources to implement the LD verification activities and systems for monitoring timber supply chains?

3.1.3: Do the Forest Protection agencies at all levels have adequate resources to implement verification on timber legality?

3.1.4: Do verification entities have a management system that meets the following requirements?

- 3.1.4.1: verification entities are authorized to conduct site inspection activities as required to ensure the system's effectiveness and credibility;

- 3.1.4.2: adequate resources to conduct site inspection activities as required to ensure the system's reliability and efficiency;
- 3.1.4.3: all personnel have the skills and experience necessary to ensure effective verification;
- 3.1.4.4: internal control and inspection are well documented;
- 3.1.4.5: internal control and inspection are applied;
- 3.1.4.6: internal control and inspection ensure the system adequately fulfils its functions;
- 3.1.4.7: mechanisms to control conflicts of interest are in place;
- 3.1.4.8: transparency of the system in accordance with this Agreement is ensured;
- 3.1.4.9: the complaints management system is publicly accessible;
- 3.1.4.10: verification methods have been developed and are applied;
- 3.1.4.11: the mandate of the verification entities is clear and in the public domain.

3.2. LD-based verification

A clear Definition of legality is required to set out the scope of what has to be verified. The verification methodology is documented and ensures that the process is systematic, transparent, and evidence-based, carried out at regular intervals and covers everything included within the scope of the Definition. Key questions include:

3.2.1: Does the verification methodology cover all requirements contained within the Definition, including the checks for compliance with all indicators?

3.2.2: Do verification activities cover checks of documentation, records, and field-based operations (including unannounced verification visits)?

3.2.3: Is the Organisation Classification System (OCS) operational as intended?

3.2.4: Do verification activities cover the following requirements?

- 3.2.4.1: the risk-based approach is documented through comprehensive and practical procedures;
- 3.2.4.2: the risk-based approach contributes efficiently to the LD-based verification;
- 3.2.4.3: relevant and reliable information from interested stakeholders are collected for verification purposes;
- 3.2.4.4: records of verification activities are maintained in a form which allows monitoring by internal inspection agencies and the Independent Evaluator;
- 3.2.4.5: functions of information systems to LD-based verification are clearly defined;
- 3.2.4.6: verification results are publicly announced;

- 3.2.4.7: external interested stakeholders have access to this information associated to verification results.

3.3 Recognition of voluntary certification schemes, voluntary due diligence systems and national certification schemes

There are procedures validated by the Joint Implementation Committee for the recognition of voluntary certification schemes and national certification schemes. The recognition procedures constitute a basis for a supplementary verifier for the risk-based verification of timber imports, and together with voluntary due diligence systems may be considered by Viet Nam as one criteria in the Organisations Classification System. Key questions include:

3.3.1: Are the procedures for the recognition of the voluntary certification schemes, voluntary due diligence systems and national certification schemes in place? Are they publicly available?

3.3.2: Have any schemes or systems been recognized yet? Is the way recognized schemes and systems are taken into account for the verification of imports, and potentially in the Organisations Classification System, contributing to assurance of legality?

3.4. Verification of system to control the supply chain

There is a clear scope setting out what has to be verified which covers the entire supply chain from harvesting or import to the point of final sale in Viet Nam or export, including for confiscated timber. The verification methodology is documented and ensures that the process is systematic, evidence-based, carried out at regular intervals, and covers everything included within the scope, including regular and timely reconciliation of data between each stage in the supply chain. Key questions include:

3.4.1: Are functions of verification entities clearly identified and exercised?

3.4.2: Does the verification methodology cover everything required to control the supply chain? Is this clearly identified in the verification methodology? Are there additional instrument(s) that support the control of supply chain?

3.4.3: Which evidences reflect the verification of control of the supply chain?

3.4.4: Which agency is in charge of the verification data? Does that agency have adequate personnel and resources to perform data management activities?

3.4.5: Are there any methods to assess the reconciliation between the volume of standing/imported timber and the volume of timber arriving at processing facilities/point of final sale in Viet Nam or points of export?

3.4.6: Are there any methods in place to assess the reconciliation between the material inputs and output products at sawmills or factories?

3.4.7: Are there any methods in place to ensure consistent timber product marking and numbering?

3.4.8: Is the traceability verification carried out on a product or consignment basis in the entire supply chain?

3.4.9: Do Organisations and Households ascertain for transaction of timber products the legality, validity and conformity of timber product dossiers, including correlation with the timber, to ensure that timber products sourced in Viet Nam are legal?

3.4.10: Is the risk-based approach for VNTLAS implementation contributing efficiently to the control of the supply chain?

3.4.11: Which technology and information system is employed to archive, verify and record data? Is there any system for data assurance in place?

3.4.12: Will verification results on the control of supply chain be publicly announced? How can interested parties access such information?

3.5. Non-compliance

There is an appropriate and effective mechanism for requiring and enforcing appropriate corrective action where non-compliances are identified. Key questions include:

3.5.1: Does the verification system or other systems define the above requirement?

3.5.2: Is there available documentation specifying the methods for handling non-compliances and their consequence on FLEGT licensing?

3.5.3: Is the verification system able to adequately identify cases of non-compliance?

3.5.4: Are there mechanisms for handling non-compliances in place, including the violations database?

3.5.5: Are violations observed during the OCS assessments recorded in the violation database?

3.5.6: Will the system allow for records of detected non-compliances and corrective actions to be maintained? How will the effectiveness of the corrective actions be evaluated?

3.5.7: Is the violation database consulted in the process of export verification? Does the information included in the violations database inform the verification process for exports?

3.5.8: Are physical checks carried out for timber products to be exported according to the agreed sample rate?

3.5.9: What information related to non-compliances can be made public?

3.5.10: Are the sanctions that are applied to non-compliances adequate, proportionate and dissuasive?

Part 4: Licensing

The Government of Viet Nam has assigned the Licensing Authority to assume all responsibilities related to FLEGT licensing. The FLEGT License will be issued for each export shipment. Key questions include:

4.1. Licensing Authority

4.1.1: Which agencies are tasked with FLEGT licensing?

4.1.2: Are the roles of the Licensing Authority and its personnel involved in FLEGT licensing clearly identified and publicly available?

4.1.3: Are requirements of the Licensing Authority and the development of an internal control system towards the licensing functions of personnel of the Licensing Authority clearly identified?

4.1.4: Does the Licensing Authority have adequate resources and systems in place to perform the tasks?

4.2. Licensing procedures

4.2.1: Has the Licensing Authority established licensing procedures? Are these procedures, including applicable fees, publicly available?

4.2.2: Is the function and contribution of the Licensing Database to the FLEGT licensing process clearly defined?

4.2.3: What evidences will show that the licensing procedures are properly followed?

4.2.4: Are full records on granted licences and rejected licences maintained? Do such records clearly reflect which evidences form the basis for licensing?

4.3. Shipment -based licensing

4.3.1: Is the legality of the export shipment ensured by the supply chain control system of the Government?

4.3.2: Are requirements for licensing clearly defined and informed to exporting Organisations, Households and individuals and related stakeholders?

4.3.3: Which information contained in the granted licences is made public?

4.4. Queries on issued FLEGT licences

There is an adequate mechanism in place for handling queries with regard to FLEGT licences from EU Competent Authorities as specified in Annex III to this Agreement. Key questions include:

5.1. Organization for implementation

The Independent Evaluator is established according to the following requirements:

5.1.1: Appointment: Has Viet Nam officially engaged, or is Viet Nam in the process of engaging, an Independent Evaluator? Was/is the Independent Evaluator appointed through a transparent mechanism and are there clear and publicly available rules regarding its appointment?

5.1.2: Independence of the Evaluator: In order to prevent conflicts of interest, is there a clear separation between organisations and individuals engaged in forest resource regulation and management and organisation(s) and individuals performing the Independent Evaluation?

5.1.3: Competence: Is the Independent Evaluator required to operate in accordance with a quality control system? Is there an agreed methodology for carrying out the Independent Evaluation?

5.1.4: Establishment of mechanism for dispute resolution: Is the Independent Evaluator required to have a mechanism for receiving and dealing with complaints about its own evaluation activities?

Part 6: Mechanism for handling complaints

There is an adequate mechanism for handling complaints and disputes that arise from VNTLAS implementation. This mechanism makes it possible to deal with any complaint relating to the operation of the VNTLAS. Key questions include:

6.1.1: Is there a documented procedure for handling complaints that is available to all interested stakeholders?

6.1.2: Is it clear how complaints are received, documented, escalated (where necessary) and responded to?
