The contract will be valid for 70 years and is running under a cooperation program of the Vietnamese and Cambodian governments.

60 ha of rubber crops have been planted and nursery has already gone up on a 15 ha plot of land.

The project is estimated to cost VND 770 billion (US$ 48.1 million). Tân Bien Rubber Company contributed 51 percent of the capital, the Việt Nam Rubber Industry Corporation, 29 percent and the Sông Đà Corporation, 20 percent.

The Tân Biên-Kampong Thom Rubber Development Company plans to put 7,900 ha under rubber by 2010 and put a 26,000 ton latex processing plant into operation by 2023.
