The first floor of an under-construction building collapsed today, seriously injuring one worker and slightly injuring two others in Banteay Meanchey province's Poipet city.

A Poipet city deputy police chief Prum Piseth said the accident happened at 10am in Ou Chrov commune.

He said that the building's first floor (planned as a guesthouse) collapsed while a cement truck was spraying cement.

He said the seriously injured worker broke his left leg while the other two were not badly hurt.

Police have temporarily sealed off the construction site for further investigation.
