According to the announcement made by Dangkor District authorities, there was an incident where more than 1000 factory workers fled from the Fortress Factory. This occurrence happened at 7:45 p.m. June 9, when health authorities arrived to take Covid-19 samples.

Authorities reported that the medical officials started to arrive at the factory on 7:45 p.m. June 9. After the first round of testing was done, the medical officials announced that a second round of testing was necessary to verify the results. This caused the factory workers to begin to panic and create disorder, which led to them fleeing the factory in droves.
